Learner Skills and Behaviours

This week the Prefects presented the first certificates (designed by them) for children whom they had noticed during the week for showing respect. Comments included children being seen hanging up other people's belongings in the cloakroom, walking in the corridors, doing what was asked of them and having good manners.

Year 5 enjoyed some baking as part of their learning about imaginary worlds and even had some hot chocolate and Turkish delight. Can you guess what book they are studying?

Children in Year 6 had the amazing opportunity learn more about World War 2 from Libby's Great Grandmother who came in to visit the class. She was only ten years old when the war started (see below). Thank you to Mrs Drury for visiting.

Miss Teager arranged another Mathletics Competition week; the children have been so motivated in their maths learning all week and we had an incredible amount of certificates to give out for number facts and times tables clubs and of course Mathletics. Prizes will be given for the class and individual with the highest scores.

Year 6's Special Visitor

Libby's great grandma (Ruby Drury) came in to speak to Year 6 about her experiences during World War II. She was ten years old when the war started. She talked to the children about what happened when war was announced, how ration books and clothes coupons worked, how her family grew their own vegetables and how they had to black out light at night time. She also explained a bit about evacuees, air raid shelters, gas masks and doodlebugs. The children then had the opportunity to ask questions - they had so many things to ask!
